ADVANCE AUSTRALIA
ECONOMY AND COMFORT.

IT is now an admitted matter of Fact and not of speculation, that Gravely's Economical Cooking Apparatus exceeds any article for the purpose ever offered to the public in economy of fuel, in convenience for cooking, in cleanliness, in comfort to the cook, in despatch (supposing dinner to be wanted in a hurry), in safety, besides making cooking utensils last much longer than when used over a common fire.
To meet the wishes of all parties A. G. is now manufacturing his apparatus of six different sizes and qualities, suitable for all classes, from the peer to the peasant, suitable alike for the solitary pair, the large hotel or public institution; suitable for the citizen, or the resident in the far off interior.
Being manufactured on the premises, under his immediate superintendence, A. G. warrants the quality and workmanship of his apparatus, and urges the claims of an article purely colonial on those who wish to see the Land of their adoption "Go a-head."

THE APPROACHING ELECTION.

The first elective Parliament of New South Wales is no more; it has lived its appointed day and died its appointed death; the legislative power of the country is again lodged in the hands of the people; and that country expects every man to do his duty.

The nine thousand men who hold the franchise will do well to remember, that while they are technically the constituency, in reality they are themselves but a body of representatives. They represent, in the first instance, the two hundred thousand of their fellow-colonists to whom, by reason of their sex, nonage, or want of pecuniary qualification, the right of voting does not appertain. They represent, in the second instance, the eighty or a hundred thousand men, women, and children, who will be added to the population during the next six years. And they represent, in a remoter but scarcely less important sense, our posterity through all time coming. The legislation for which they have to provide the living agents will affect the whole community, present and future; and will affect it for good or for evil, according as the agents shall be well or ill chosen. Every elector ought therefore to bear it upon his conscience, when pondering on the disposal of his suffrage, that while he is a principal, he is also a trustee—that he is acting, not for himself alone, but for hundreds of thousands of his fellow-subjects, who have not the power of acting for themselves, and who must needs look to him as the guardian of their common rights and interests.

It is clear from these considerations, that the holders of the elective franchise are far from being an irresponsible body. No man, certainly, no number of men, has the right to dictate to them—no man, no body of men, has the right to call them to account—touching the appropriation of their votes. In this respect, they are free as the air they breathe. They are their own masters; but then to their own masters they must stand or fall. They carry within their own breasts the tribunal to which they are amenable. They must give account at the bar of conscience. They must sit in judgment upon themselves. And to an honourable mind, no condemnation is so terrible as the condemnation pronounced by itself upon itself. And the elector who can set self-condemnation at defiance, and dispose of his vote in spite of the warnings of his own better judgment, is a traitor both to his country and himself.

It may not be superfluous to remind our brother electors, that under the obligations laid upon them at the present crisis, the guilt of acting wrong is not much deeper than that of not acting at all. In truth, to them this is the more easily besetting sin of the two. We have sufficient confidence in the manly independence of the great bulk of their number, to believe that they would scorn to vote for men whom in their consciences they believed to be unfit to represent them. But past experience forces upon us the unwelcome fact, that but too many of them are under the spell of a culpable indifference. Well-meaning men, whom no bribery could corrupt, whom no artifices could lead astray from the right path, are often prone to flatter themselves that there can be no impropriety in their minding what they call their own business, and leaving the business of elections to be managed by others. This is selfishness turned upside down. The duties of the poll are the legitimate business of every one whose name stands upon the roll, and, like other duties, cannot be neglected without risk to self-interest. The elector who wilfully stays at home when he ought to be at the hustings, stands self-convicted of a gross breach of trust. Were a large proportion of his compeers to do as he does, the government of the country would fall into the hands of an oligarchy. Were they all to do so, the Crown would be compelled to resume the nomination of the entire legislature. Let us hope that in the approaching contest there will be no skulkers, but that every man will be alive to the calls of his country.

So few are the candidates at present in the field, that our remarks on the qualifications which candidates ought to possess must for the most part be general rather than personal. That they should be men of at least tolerable education, of good common sense, of sufficient local experience, and of fair fame and reputation, must be admitted on all hands. As to the latter stipulation, while we would not encourage an inquisitorial prying into the affairs of private life, we would lay it down as a rule founded in reason and in policy, that no man of notoriously immoral character ought to be returned as a member, or even listened to as a candidate. Besides being a disgrace to the country, he could not be trusted as a legislator. We could put no dependence upon his truth, his honesty, his diligence at the post of duty, or his fitness to deal with questions affecting our social welfare. Should an openly immoral man present himself to any of the constituencies, let him be scouted.

Many of our fellow-citizens have determined upon having a commercial representative, and have addressed a requisition to Mr. Lamb. He is a merchant; a merchant of very many years' standing; a merchant of the first class. That is saying a great deal for his primâ facie fitness to represent us in the legislature. Sydney, eminently a mercantile city, the commercial emporium not only of the whole colony, but of all the colonies composing the Australasian group, requires that at least one of her members should be a commercial man. Heretofore we have been represented by a barrister and a surgeon. We say nothing at present of the individuals; but we do say, that in being thus exclusively represented by these professions, the city was placed in a false position. Mr. Lamb offers us the means of avoiding a similar mistake for the future.

But this gentleman comes before us not as a merchant only. He comes as a well-tried legislator. He has sat in the Council for several years; and though he has sat as a nominee of the Crown, he has proved himself an honest, independent, free spoken member. The Government have found no truckler in him. He has never hesitated, when urged by his own convictions, to oppose them both by his speeches and his votes. This is one of the strongest proofs of purity of mind and strength of character. Unless, therefore, our mercantile body shall hereafter put forth a better candidate, we shall give to Mr. Lamb all the support in our power.

Mr. Cheeke, the Commissioner of the Court of Requests, has responded to an invitation from the electors of the united counties of Cook and Westmoreland, and his address is a strange production. It does not contain one single sentence from which we might gather what his political opinions are, or how he will perform the difficult and double task of pleasing two masters—Government and the electors. The Commissioner with his usual legal caution avoids pledges, though he will always advocate measures which he may believe to be conducive to the interest or tending to the advantage of his adopted country. This is all that Mr. Cheeke proposes to do for the requisitionists. But this will not satisfy them; and if we have formed a correct judgment they will expect, and have a right to expect, more from the learned gentleman.

There are many points upon which we should have liked to have heard Mr. Cheeke's opinions, involving, as they do, questions of paramount importance to the colony.

Let us now anticipate what we may expect from Mr. Cheeke as a legislator. If he be returned he enters the Council as a government officer, shackled and fettered by his appointment, and must sit and vote with the government. If, therefore, he would do his duty to his constituents, he must do that which we much fear he will not do, he must resign his appointment. If he does not it is quite clear that he must vote with the government upon all occasions when his vote is required. In the late Council there were one or two gentlemen in the service of government who felt that their independence was fettered by an intimation they received that it was expected they would always be found voting on the same side of the house as the members who occupy the treasury benches; and these gentlemen very properly resigned. So with Mr. Cheeke, we can hardly suppose that he would be so ungrateful as to vote against his patrons, or to decline throwing his support into the government scale. When the estimates are brought forward he would be found to adopt every proposal of the Colonial Secretary and the Colonial Treasurer.

Mr. Cheeke concludes his address in the following terms: "I feel proud in finding that during the several years I have visited your district in various official capacities, my conduct has been such as to merit your approbation and acquire your esteem. I can only in conclusion sincerely hope, that, should I be fortunate enough to be placed by your votes and interest in the distinguished position of your representative, you will not have occasion to regret the honour conferred upon me."

We are not so sure, if Mr. Cheeke is elected, that the constituents will not when too late have cause to regret their choice; for it is self-evident that if he does ample justice to his constituents, he must come into collision with the government, and if he is a stanch uncompromising supporter of the government, he must on some questions sacrifice the interests of his constituents.

We shall await with anxiety the result of the election; and we hope that Mr. Cheeke will be required to state more particularly the line of policy which it is his intention to pursue.

THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PORT PHILLIP.

The following is the petition of the Melbourne Town Council, praying for the removal of Mr. La Trobe from the office of Superintendent of Port Phillip. It was carried by a majority of seven to four.—

To her most gracious Majesty Victoria, by the grace of God Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c., &c.

The humble Petition of the Mayor, &c.

Sheweth—

That your Majesty's petitioners approach the throne with the most fervent expression of their devoted loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's royal person and government, and the most profound veneration for the institutions of the British empire.

That your Majesty's petitioners are the legally constituted representatives of the Metropolitan City of Melbourne, which contains upwards of one-third of the entire population of the large and flourishing District of Port Phillip, and in the absence of a local Legislature, form the only popular organ of the expression of public opinion existing in the Province.

That your Majesty's petitioners deeply regret that in the conscientious discharge of their duty to their constituents and to the community they are under the painful necessity of approaching your Majesty with this expression of their complaints of the administration of the government by his Honor Charles Joseph La Trobe, Esq., the Superintendent of this District.

That your Majesty's petitioners feel deeply aggrieved by the systematic misappropriation of the money appropriated by the legislature of the colony for the public service of the district—the sums which have from time to time been voted for the execution of public works of acknowledged urgency and importance, having been in very many instances withheld from expenditure, avowedly with the concurrence of his Honor the Superintendent, to the manifest injury of the whole community, the money so voted forming in every instance only a small portion of the annual surplus revenue of this district.

That your Majesty's petitioners also complain of the great neglect of many public works and institutions of the utmost consequence to the welfare of this district, which has characterised His Honor the Superintendent's administration of the Government, such neglect being not only highly detrimental to this province, but utterly inexcusable, since at the very time large sums were being annually abstracted from the revenue of this district without any apparent remonstrance on the part of his Honor, and carried off to be expended on similar objects in the distant district of Sydney.

That your Majesty's petitioners have likewise to complain that in their official intercourse with His Honor the Superintendent on matters of high public importance they have experienced, on the part of His Honor, an extent of obstruction, faithlessness, and insincerity, highly discreditable to the Representative of your Majesty, and very prejudicial to the interests of this city and district.

Your petitioners further take the liberty of representing that His Honor the Superintendent, although possessing the rank and authority of a Lieutenant-Governor, has never upheld the dignity of his high office in a manner befitting the Representative of your Majesty, and has altogether failed of affording to the colonists, even on the natal day of their beloved Sovereign, those opportunities of testifying their loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's royal person and government, which are customary in every other portion of the British empire.

That your Majesty's petitioners have the less reluctance in laying their complaints before the throne, as His Honor's tenure of office as Superintendent of this district has already far exceeded the term permitted by your Majesty's regulations for the service of the colonies, and your Majesty's government having announced that the province will speedily be erected into a separate colony, bearing the Royal name of Victoria, your petitioners hope to see your Majesty more fittingly represented in the person of the Governor to whom its infant destinies are to be entrusted.

Your petitioners, therefore, humbly pray your Majesty to favourably consider the premises, and as your petitioners have lost all confidence in the administration of the government of this province by His Honor Charles Joseph La Trobe, Esq., that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to remove him from the office of Superintendent of the Port Phillip District.

And your Majesty's petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray, &c., &c.

Tooth at the rate of £100 per annum, and for considering the propriety of fixing the charge for water to the premises of Messrs. Tooth, at the rate of £50 per annum, to take effect from the 1st day of January, 1848.—Thomas May, George Thornton, J. Brown, Henry Fisher, Alderman; Richard Driver, Gregory Board, J. R. Wilshire, Lewis Moore."—To this the following reply has been returned:—"Town Hall, Sydney, 28th June, 1848.—Gentlemen, In compliance with the above requisition, I hereby call a meeting of the Council of the city of Sydney, to be holden at the Town Hall, York-street, on Wednesday next, the 5th day of July, at three o'clock in the afternoon.—J. F. Josephson, Mayor."

Supreme Court.—The second term of the year will commence on Monday next. The following are the cases already set down for argument. New Trial motions:—Doe d. M'Donald v. Barrett; Doe d. Gallodge v. Riley; Doe d. Hill and others v. Pearce; Irving v. Sly; Preston v. Dun; Logan v. Barrett; Doe d. Bowman v. M'Keon; Scott v. Wilson; Doe d. Marlow v. Kelly. Demurrers:—Rogers v. Owen; Ryan v. Howell.

Electioneering Movements.—Considerable exertions were being made yesterday by the friends of Mr. Lamb, and by those of Messrs. Wentworth and Bland, but none of these gentlemen have as yet addressed the electors; the requisition to Mr. Lamb it will be seen contains the names of a large number of influential electors. It appears to be a very general impression, that if Mr. Wentworth endeavours to bring Mr. Bland in, he will peril his own election. In Parramatta, a meeting of the friends of Mr. William Macarthur has been held, but it is yet uncertain whether that gentleman will come forward in opposition to Mr. G. Oakes. For the Northumberland Boroughs, Captain Biddulph is in the field. Mr. R. Lowe has addressed his old constituents in St. Vincent and Auckland. Dr. Alick Osborne is canvassing in the Illawarra district of the county of Camden. Mr. Donaldson has addressed his old constituents in Durham. Mr. Lawson, in consequence of his state of health, will not again contest the county of Cumberland.

Police Office.—The Mayor and Captain Innes were yesterday assisted on the Bench by Captain Moriarty and Dr. Mitchell; the two Magistrates on the roster for the day. Messrs. L. Myles and R. Ramsey are on to-day's roster.

Perjury.—A female of the name of Cheney appeared on summons, yesterday, before the police court, charged by Thomas Smith and Henry Bastion, with perjury. Mr. Dillon appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Johnson for the defence. The particulars appeared to be that the parties being neighbours, some time in June last a quarrel, as the defendant had alleged, arose; and for what then occurred she brought the now complainants before the police court, when from the testimony she then gave they were bound over to keep the peace. The whole of her statement the complainants now averred to be false, and this constituted the present charge. After the two complainants and a witness had been examined, the further hearing of the case was adjourned until Wednesday.

Notice to Carters.—Captain Innes yesterday stated from the Bench that he had some time previously alluded to the erroneous notion that prevailed amongst persons driving carts, that if they merely trotted and did not gallop their horses, they were guilty of no infringement of the Police Act. From the noise made by many carts, particularly when they were half loaded with timber or iron, in trotting, serious accidents had occurred by their starting off high spirited horses in carriages or saddle. He therefore desired that the police would take care to bring up the first person found pursuing this dangerous practice, in order that an example might be made.

Clothes Stealing.—Some time between midnight of Thursday and six o'clock yesterday, two pairs of trousers, two pairs of check and two pairs of boys' woollen ditto, four flannel petticoats, six pairs of stockings, six pairs of children's socks, two boys plaid and check coats, a red merino and a blue print frock, and a handkerchief, were stolen from a yard at the rear of Mr. Moore's public-house, in George-street North, where they had been most imprudently left out. Some of the articles are marked with the names of Moore and Ross.

Assaulting the Constabulary.—John Williamson was yesterday charged with violently assaulting Police constable Duigan on the previous evening, in Pitt-street, whilst in the execution of his duty, in taking the accused to the watchhouse for drunkenness. The defendant said he would not dispute the charge, though he did not remember anything about it, as he was very drunk. All doubt respecting this being the truth was removed by the constable stating, that when he took Williamson into custody, he was endeavouring to pull a horse on himself. Fined 40s. and 7s. 6d. costs, or twenty-eight days' imprisonment. A second offender, for a similar infraction of the Act, was awarded 20s. and 2s. 6d. costs, or six weeks' imprisonment.

Embezzlement.—The convict list contained the name of a ticket-of-leave holder named Keisler, who was charged with embezzlement. The prisoner, it seemed, had received from a publican named Martin the sum of 10s. 6d., 9s. of which he was to apply in taking out a summons in the Court of Requests, and to pay the balance to a person to whom it was owing. Neither having been done, and considerable shuffling having been exhibited by Keisler, Mr. Martin caused him to be apprehended. Captain Innes remarked he was very glad to see the prisoner in the position he was, as he believed him to be a great rogue from occurrences which he knew of happening three years since, as also subsequent ones, but in all of which he had hitherto contrived to evade punishment. The prisoner was then remanded until to-day, in order that enquiries might be made at Hyde Park Barracks as to the period when he would become free, it being intimated that until that period he would be kept on Cockatoo Island.

A Notorious Prowler.—An aged female of the name of Ellen Ramsay, was on Wednesday brought before the Police Court, having been taken in custody on the previous day on the South Head Road, in consequence of an iron saucepan having been found close beside where she was sitting, and her reputation and known habits inducing strong presumption that it had not come into her possession either through gift or right of purchase, the apprehending constable stating that he had no doubt he should be able to find an owner for the saucepan, and he believed also to bring forward a charge of theft against the prisoner, a remand was ordered. Yesterday, on the prisoner being again brought before the Court; although no owner for the saucepan was found, a female of the name of Donovan, who keeps a chandler's shop on the South Head Road, attended, and charged Ramsay with stealing a bar of soap. It appeared that early on Tuesday morning, Ramsay came into the shop and after purchasing a box of matches, went away. Shortly afterwards, whilst the inmates of the house were at breakfast in a room behind the shop, a noise was heard, and on proceeding to ascertain the cause of it, the prisoner was seen going out of the door at so quick a pace that suspicion was excited, and she was followed. She, however, soon increased the distance between her and her pursuers, and on being called on to stop dropped what was subsequently found to be a bar of soap, and got clear off. On returning to the shop, the bar of soap was found to have been one taken from off the counter. The prisoner was remanded until to-day for the evidence of a second witness who was not in attendance.

Furiously Riding.—A man of the name of William Henshaw was yesterday before the Police Court charged with having, on the previous day, ridden in so furious a manner in George-street, that the safety of a person named Bayle was endangered. The case, a very gross one, was clearly established by the evidence of Police Sergeant Adams and Bayle. The defendant, who was intoxicated, had come along George-street at a racing pace, and when opposite the Old Burial Ground turned his horse's head on to the pavement, and knocked Bayle, who was carrying a basket of bottles, down, and after riding against the window of Mr. Phillips, the draper's shop, got on to the carriage road and put his horse into a full gallop. Bayle added in his testimony that it was only through great activity he escaped being most severely injured, and the defendant was so drunk he could with difficulty sit his horse. The only defence offered was, that the horse had run off and could not be pulled up. A fine of £5 and 2s. 6d costs was imposed, and in default of payment two months' imprisonment.

Burglaries and Attempts.—About nine o'clock on Thursday night, an entrance was effected into the house of Mr. Spencer, of Sussex-street, by breaking one of the windows, when a Tuscan bonnet, a velvet bonnet, a dark merino, an old brown, and two Orleans woman's dresses, two children's mousseline de laine frocks, and a black beaver hat, were stolen. Between one and two o'clock yesterday morning, an attempt was made to break into the shop of Mrs. Horseman, George-street North. The iron bar fastening the shutters was found to be bent, and wrenched from the socket, and a pane of glass broken in the window. The burglars are suspected to have been alarmed, and made off as some lodgers in the house coming home.

Van Diemen's Land Kalendar.—We have been favoured with a copy of the "Van Diemen's Royal Kalendar, Colonial Register, and Almanack, compiled by James Wood." It is a very neatly printed volume of three hundred pages, and is very creditable to the tact and industry of the compiler. It contains very full lists of the various government departments (both Colonial and Imperial) in Van Diemen's Land, and a large amount of information, which it is useful to have in a handy form for reference. The sale of a work of this kind in a small colony like Van Diemen's Land can hardly pay the spirited compiler and publisher for his outlay. Persons in Sydney trading with our southern neighbours must find this little work of constant service as a book of reference.

Twenty-five Pounds Reward, and a Conditional Pardon.—It having been represented to the government, that on the 7th June, at different periods of the day, three persons were stopped by two armed bushrangers, near the station of Mr. James Landsborough, in the district of New England, and robbed of a light bay colt, about four years old, branded DAY off side under mane, No. 15 near shoulder, near hind foot white, and had on at the time of the robbery a colonial saddle nearly new, covered with a sheepskin; a light bay horse, rising four years old, bang tail, branded MP conjoined near shoulder; and a new saddle and a valise containing some clothes: His Excellency the Governor has directed it to be notified that a reward of twenty-five pounds will be paid to any free person or persons who may give such information as shall lead to the apprehension of the depredators; and if the person giving such information be a prisoner of the crown, application will be made to Her Majesty for the allowance to such prisoner of a conditional pardon. The following is a description of the bushrangers:—John Roach alias Dubbo, dark complexioned, black whiskered man, about five feet ten inches in height, was dressed in a blue frock, moleskin trousers, and cabbage-tree hat. Thomas Gregory, a short stout man, light complexion and whiskers, about five feet five inches in height, was dressed in a Guernsey frock and corduroy trousers.

" Mauritius Sugars continue immoveable at anything like former rates.

" Pampanga continues to move slowly at £10 to £17; we have heard of no sales exceeding 3 tons; the principal holders will not give way in price; good samples stand in fully these rates, and being in the hands of parties who do not require to push their goods upon the market, little decline need be anticipated.

" The stock of English is light; recent sales have been at 8d. In colonial stocks are declining slowly; sales are daily effected at 33s. One of the refiners having ceased to operate may cause some enquiries; but with present stocks no immediate advance need be anticipated.

Tar—Stocks continue light; holders ask 40s. to 45s.

Tea—There has been a good deal of enquiry during the week, and some sales have been effected; but holders are careless of realizing even at present advanced rates, looking for higher figures within a short period; indeed as soon as our market can revive from the effects of late forced sales, a good business may be looked for, as many orders will come forward from the outports, and we can fear no arrivals during the present season.

Tin—Block—Of this article this and the surrounding markets are perfectly bare. Early arrivals will command a high figure, 2s. 3d. having been paid for a small quantity during the week.

SYDNEY MARKETS.—Friday.

Wheat.—Prices remain entirely as last week, 4s. 9d. to 5s. per bushel for colonial, and 6s. 6d. per bushel asked by the holders of Van Diemen's Land. There has been but very little doing in this article, the millers having a stock on hand sufficient for the immediate demand, and which they are unwilling to increase at the present rate.

Flour.—Business is doing at the subjoined rates:—

Fine, per 100 lbs.	13s. cash,	14s. credit.
Seconds, ditto ditto	11s. „	12s. „
Rations, ditto ditto	9s. „	10s. „

The market continues very firm at these prices.

Biscuit.—No. 1, cabin, 22s. No. 2, pilot, 17s. No. 3, ship, 11s. per cwt.

Bran.—1s. wholesale; 1s. 2d. retail, per bushel.

Bread.—3½d. is charged for the 2 lb. loaf by nine-tenths of the bakers which is the lowest rate at the present price of flour it can generally be sold at. 3d. is marked as the price at some shops, but this arises either from a few of the bakers having laid in a large stock of flour, when it was at a low rate, or the article will be found to be either of inferior quality or of light weight.

Grain.—In the early part of the week the supply of maize was rather limited, and former rates of 1s. 6d. to 1s. 8d. per bushel were freely given. Within the last three days the arrivals have been large, and the price has consequently fallen. Large sales have, however, been effected at 1s. 5d. to 1s. 6d. The grain has been of good quality and all new. The stock of old maize seems nearly if not altogether exhausted. In other grains business has been very limited. The prices quoted are—English barley for malting, 4s.; Cape barley, 3s. 6d. to 3s.; Van Diemen's Land oats, 4s. per bushel.

Potatoes.—Potatoes have taken a considerable rise during the week. Circular Heads being now 5l. to 5l. 10s., and colonial, 4l. to 4l. 5s. per ton. There have been some good colonial from Broulee.

Horned Cattle.—The butchers have been well but not plentifully supplied. Few, however, have many weeks' consumption on hand in or near Sydney. A few herds that arrived in the course of the week were readily disposed of at from £2 to £2 10s., according to weight and condition, but the maximum rate greatly preponderated. Milch cows continue at the same wide range as last reported, £2 to £4 10s. per head, and calves at from 5s. to 20s. per head.

Sheep.—There have been no really good sheep in the market during the week. There have been and still are plenty of middling and inferior, and prices for which are from 4s. 9d. to 5s. 3d. for the former, and 4s. to 4s. 6d. for the latter.

Horses.—The sales during the week have been by Messrs. Armstrong and Stewart. That of the former comprised twenty horses of Mr. Allen's, at an average of about 16l. 17s. 6d., and eleven cart horses of Messrs. Rowland's, at an average of about 11l. 5s. per head. The number disposed of by Mr. Stewart during the week was eighteen head, at prices varying from 7l. to 31l. 10s., averaging about 17; there were principally unbroken stock. Good hacks command a fair price.

Pigs.—The pork butchers have been giving 2½d. to 3½d. for carcassing, during the week.

Dairy Produce.—Butter, of which about a ton was received into the market during the week, still retains its price of from 6d. to 9d. per lb., and 10d. for best brands. Four tons of bacon paid market dues and sold at 3d., 3½d., and the best at 4d. per lb. The supply of cheese was large, being five tons, and caused a slight declination in former prices, 3½d. being the highest rate obtained for the best; the general average was about 3d. Some inferior sold as low as 2½d. per lb.; sucking pigs, 5s. to 6s. each.

Eggs have been rather plentiful, and bought at from 7d. to 9d. per dozen.

Poultry.—Market dues were paid on ten loads, and there has been a rise on previous rates, the present ones being—Fowls, 1s. 3d. to 1s. 10d. per pair; ducks, 2s. 6d. to 3s. 3d. per couple; geese, 5s. 6d. per pair; turkeys, 3s. 6d. to 6s. 6d. each; pigeons, 1s. per pair.

Fruit.—The quantity brought to market during the week was twenty-five loads. The only additional fruit to those in the market last week is the pine apple, of which a few have been received from Moreton Bay. Their appearance and quality speaks well for the horticultural capabilities of the district, being a very superior specimen of this species of fruit. Van Diemen's Land apples continue as last quoted, 25s. to 30s. per case; colonial eating apples, 1s. 6d. to 2s. per dozen; oranges, 1s. to 1s. 3d. per dozen; Seville ditto, 6d. to 1s. per dozen; lemons, common, 4d. to 6d. per dozen; Lisbon, 9d. to 1s. per dozen; lemons, 5s. to 7s. 6d. per dozen; loquats, 3s. 6d. to 4s. 6d. per basket; citrons, 6d. to 1s. per dozen; cherimoyers, (or custard apples), 2d. to 1s. each; shaddocks, 3s. per dozen; Cape gooseberries, 1d. per quart.

Vegetables.—Fifty loads paid dues during the week; the prices realized were, turnips and carrots each 1s. 6d. per dozen bunches, parsnips, 2s. per dozen; cabbages, 2s. 6d. to 3s. 6d. per dozen, cauliflowers, ditto ditto; pumpkins, 3s. to 4s. per dozen; celery, 3d. to 6d. per head; horse-radish, 3d. to 9d. per stick; new potatoes, 2d. per lb.; lettuces, 1s. to 2s. per dozen; leeks, 2s. per dozen; chillis, 4d. to 6d. per quart; peas, 2s. 6d. per peck; Jerusalem artichokes, 3d. per lb.; dried onions, 20s. per cwt.; young ditto and radishes, each 1d. per bunch.

Forage.—The Haymarket report shows 126 loads of hay to have been received during the week, and which was disposed of at rates from 3l. to 7l., lucerne 3l. to 3l. 10s., and grass from 1l. 10s. to 7l. 5s. per ton; straw, of which there were 22 loads, sold at 2s. to 3s. 6d. per cwt.; 11 loads of green fodder, sold at 6d. to 9d. per dozen bundles; and 22 loads of green bedding at 2s. 6d. to 4s. per load. Van Diemen's Land, 5l. to 6l. per ton; stock heavy.

Leather.—Kangaroo skins still sell at 40s. to 43s. per dozen, but a fall is daily expected from the large stock now in the importers' hands. Other leathers are, kip 15d. to 18d.; sole 9d., and calf 3s. 6d. per lb.; basils, 6s. and saddlers ditto, 7s. to 9s. per dozen; while sheepskins 18s. per dozen. Harness leather 7d. to 8d. per lb.

Fuel.—Coals, at the wharf, 15s. per ton; wood, 5s. per ton.

Building Materials.—The market is still without 10 feet slabs; shingles, 12s. to 15s. per 1000; lath, 8d. per sheet; laths, 5 feet, 7s. per 1000; posts and rails, 20s. per 100. Sawn stuff—hardwood, 10s. per 100 feet; cedar, in flitch, 11s. per 100 feet. Sawn inch stuff, 12½d.; 14 inch, 3½d. per foot. Bricks, 18s. to 24s. per 1000. Lime, 7d. per bushel; hair, 3d. per ditto.

NEWS FROM THE INTERIOR.

(From our Correspondents.)

BERRIMA.

Inquest.—On the 21st June, an inquest was held before George Bransby, Esq., the Coroner for the district, at Mr. A. G. Morley's Inn, Bong-bong, on the body of Susannah Flannagan, aged thirty-eight years. From the evidence it appeared the deceased on the Sunday morning previous to her death went into the bush in her usual health; being from home longer than the family expected, they went out in search of her, and found her in a state of insensibility and brought her home. She never spoke afterwards, and died on Tuesday morning. A verdict was recorded of died by the visitation of God. We regret to add that she has left twelve children, the youngest of whom is only thirteen months' old, and unhappily their disconsolate father is totally unable to provide for them. It is to be hoped some means may be devised to provide for the unfortunate orphans.

On the 22nd June, another inquest was held at the Queen's Arms Inn, at the Cross Roads, about six miles from Berrima, on view of the body of Kenneth Munro. Deceased was the landlord of the establishment. It appeared from the evidence that the deceased had been for the last two years and upwards labouring under insanity, and that he had been for nearly six months in Sydney under the care of several medical gentlemen, who declared his case hopeless. About two years since he strayed into the bush, where he remained two days and nights before he was found. It also came out in evidence that he frequently managed to get away from the house, and lose himself in the bush. Since his return from Sydney he had no regular medical attendant, but every thing that his wife could do to alleviate his sufferings was done for him. The jury returned a verdict of "died by the visitation of God;" and the jury are of opinion Mrs. Munro did all she could, but think a medical gentleman ought to have been called in.

Poundkeeper.—At the last Court of Petty Sessions, John Ludwig was removed from the office of poundkeeper for dereliction of his duty. The magistrate the same day appointed Richard Whitfield to the office.

Bong-bong Races.—On the 19th instant some races were got up at Mr. A. G. Morley's Inn, Bong-bong, in commemoration of the battle of Waterloo. There was a large assemblage of people present; several well contested races were run. Messrs. Bransby and Carter's horses being the principal winners. After the sports of the day had concluded, a number of persons adjourned to the inn to partake of an excellent dinner provided by the worthy host, when several loyal toasts were drunk with due honour; after which the company broke up, all highly delighted with the day's amusements.

Police Office.—Saturday: One woman was brought up for drunkenness, and fined 5s., or an hour in the stocks the fine was paid. Tuesday: A man named Samuel Owen was brought before the Court on suspicion of being a runaway. It ap-years some ten years since he was assigned to Mr. Cutter, of Nattai, from whose service he absconded and took the bush, and was subsequently transported for life to Norfolk Island. The chief constable knowing him to be a stranger, and observing him prowling about the town the last two days, had him taken into custody under the Vagrant Act. On being questioned he stated his name to be Samuel Johnson, and produced a certificate of discharge, purporting to be under the hand of Mr. William Mackenzie, of the M'Leay River. When brought before the Court he stated his name to be Samuel Owen, per Exmouth, 1831, a prisoner under sentence of transportation for seven years. On reference to the indent, the chief constable stated that the last statement made by the prisoner was correct; but as he had reason to believe he would be able to elicit something further regarding the prisoner, the Court remanded him for further examination. On Wednesday he was again brought before the bench, and from the unsatisfactory manner in which he endeavoured to account for his appearance in this district, the Court ordered him to be forwarded to Hyde Park Barracks, Sydney, to be identified.

EMIGRANT DEPÔT.—As great anxiety appears to exist in the minds of the community at large to provide suitable places in the interior for the reception of newly arrived immigrants, from whence they may be engaged by the surrounding settlers, &c., we deem it right to draw public attention to the Berrima Gaol, which has been closed since the beginning of the present year. There are several commodious lodges within the gaol wall, independent of the main building, in which a large number of immigrants might conveniently dwell till such time as they obtain employment. Wood and water are both to be had within a minute's walk, in fact every necessary convenience is to be found within and around the gaol. Under these circumstances we submit a better place could not be selected to form an immigrant depôt. It is to be regretted so fine a building as this should be thus left untenanted, and allowed to become a ruin, which it unquestionably will, if not occupied in some way or other. We believe the erection of this building cost the Government some £20,000.

POST OFFICE.—Our much respected townsman, Mr. J. J. Higgins, has resigned the office of Postmaster for the district of Berrima. We cannot let this opportunity pass without recording our unqualified approbation of the manner in which that gentleman has during a period of eight years conducted the postal business of the district; and we feel assured that the inhabitants generally will regret to learn he has retired from this office. Whoever his successor may be we hope he will follow the system adopted by Mr. Higgins; and in doing so we feel assured he will, like his predecessor, ensure for himself the respect and esteem of the community at large.

SCAB ACT.—Mr. Nathaniel M'Crary, of Murrimbo, in this district, appeared on summons, to answer to an information preferred against him by Sergeant Robert Freer, of the Mounted Police, for a breach of the Act of Council, 10 Victoria, No. 5, for permitting sheep infected with the disease called the influenza or catarrh to be turned out, kept, depastured, driven, and conducted upon land not being in the actual possession and occupation of the said Nathaniel M'Crary; the penalty for which offence is not less than £5 nor more than £40. Defendant pleaded guilty to the information, and explained to the Court that the sheep were the property of Messrs. William Walker and Co., of Sydney; that when he left Sydney the sheep were all in sound health, but on his arrival at the station he found them diseased, so much so that it was impossible to remove them to any other place. The sheep, however, it appears, are now recovering fast, and it is the intention of the proprietors to remove them if possible to some suitable place. The Court taking all the circumstances into consideration, inflicted the lowest penalty the Act allowed, namely, £5, together with £3 5s. costs, which defendant paid by drawing for the amount on his employers.

ELECTION.—We perceive a notice has been posted at the Court House door this day, stating that the day of nomination for a member to serve in the Legislative Council of New South Wales, for the electoral district of the county of Camden, is fixed for the 25th July next. The nomination to take place at the Court House, Berrima. Mr. James Macarthur, of Camden, is at present the only candidate in the field for our county.

ORIGINAL CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

GENTLEMEN,—As in your widely circulated journal Mr. Wentworth is reported to have said, in the course of the debate on Education, "If there is any religion beyond the boundaries they are not indebted to the clergy for it, for he never heard of one visiting the districts, except perhaps a stray itinerant (Roman) Catholic." I trust you will suffer me in a corner of your valuable columns to offer proof of the inaccuracy of this rash if not malignant statement, as regards our squatting district of Maneroo.

The Rev. R. G. Pryce, B.A., of Trinity College, Dublin, was appointed to this district as itinerating missionary on the 1st July, 1843, and has ever since, that is for a period of five years, been itinerating amongst us. I use the word itinerating in its literal sense, for until the last year Mr. Pryce had no house he could call his home, but sojourned at one or other of the squatters' huts. I believe I may say that the reverend gentleman is universally popular, and his ministry acceptable. Certainly he is indefatigable in the performance of his duty. Without the slightest exaggeration I may assert that, since his appointment to this district, he has travelled on an average about one hundred miles a week, and performed divine service at stated intervals at twelve different stations, the distance of which from his present residence varies from ten to one hundred miles, besides occasional service elsewhere. Cooma is about thirty-seven miles from the southern boundary of Murray, and one hundred miles from Twofold Bay. Now that a parsonage has been erected at Cooma, and the walls of a very neat church completed, he has arranged to have service here the first Sunday in each month; at Deligat, seventy miles from Cooma, the last Sunday in every second month; and at Twofold Bay on one Sunday in each quarter. In consequence of Mr. Pryce's exertions three chapels are in course of erection in different parts of Maneroo.

I may add that Mr. Pryce has on two occasions visited Gipps Land, on each of which he must have travelled about eight hundred miles, preaching and baptising whenever and wherever he had an opportunity. During the last visit he baptised between seventy and eighty children. Since the arrival of the Bishop of Melbourne, Mr. Pryce has been relieved from that onerous addition to his ordinary duties; but prior to that event he was the first, and indeed I have reason to believe the only clergyman of any denomination that had visited that remote and isolated district.

If a member of our legislature, a native of the country, and himself a large squatter, was really ignorant of all this, and of the provision which I am sure we shall learn from some of your correspondents the Bishop of Australia had made for ministering to the spiritual wants of the colonists in other squatting districts, what lamentable evidence does it afford of the un-christian indifference which the powerful non-resident squatters entertain towards the highest interests of the community at large, and more especially of their scattered shepherds and other servants! £1 per annum for every 1000 sheep would not be a very magnificent contribution towards providing the requisite degree of religious instruction for their dependents, and yet it would be sufficient for the purpose. Why then do Mr. Wentworth and his brother squatters permit the state of things he is reported to have described as existing where he has valuable property, to continue? Mr. Pryce has hitherto been supported principally by the venerable Society for the Propagation of the Gospel; but he receives £100 a year from the Colonial Treasury on condition that a like amount be contributed by the squatters in this district. The smaller class of squatters (I mean those who have from 4000 to 10,000 sheep) are not backward in contributing. But I look in vain for the names of the great squatters through the subscription list—our Boyds, &c. As they don't reside at their stations, perhaps they are not aware of the necessity of contributing towards the maintenance of preachers of the Gospel. Perhaps, like Mr. Wentworth, they fancy that clergymen are men of private fortune, who pay their own travelling expenses, and devote their time to the instruction of the ignorant and the comforting of the afflicted, without expecting those for whom they labour to contribute towards the support of themselves or their families.

ENGLISH NEWS.

THE FIRST GREAT MISTAKE OF THE FRENCH PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.

(From the Times, February 29.)

BONAPARTE spoke a homely but important truth when he said Ce n'est que le ventre qui gouverne le monde. It is the loss, not of a Reform banquet, but of the daily bread of myriads, that has dethroned Louis Philippe and established a mob government in Paris. Full work and good wages would have kept that fierce democracy in order better than a hundred thousand soldiers of the line—better than twenty forts duly manned and provisioned—better even than a well-packed and well-feed majority in the Chamber of Deputies. The real work of the revolution last week was done by hungry men. They contributed numbers, fury, recklessness, and terror to an émeute. M. Odillon Barrot had another thing in view when he applied the torch to the magazine. He expected a brilliant fire-work, illustrating constitutional principles. The effective tableau was to teach a grave moral. Out of an imposing avenue of unarmed National Guards, a vast deal of silent indignation, and a scenic impeachment, he had constructed a melodrama ending in the overthrow of Guizot and the exaltation of M. Odillon Barrot to guide the last days of Louis Philippe and the minority of his grandson. But the material was more abundant and more explosive than he reckoned on. Within twenty-four hours both Guizot and Barrot were successively shelved, unless we are to suppose that the latter had more to do with the sequel than he chose to avow. Why was this? The answer is a vulgar one. There were in Paris some hundred thousand empty stomachs. It is the nature of this disease to require a prompt remedy. The Reform banquet might have been postponed for months, but even a few hours are a serious delay to a hungry man. A mere change of Ministry, a dissolution of the Chamber, and a more enlightened policy for a future, were cold comforts to the supperless rabble. "See that we are not cheated of our rights this time," they called out at the office of the National, as if they could not wait another seventeen years. The disorder was chronic, but the pangs were sharp, and something must be done without further delay.

This feature of the crisis is revealed in the first acts of the Provisional Government. Addressing the "Citizens of Paris" with customary grandeur of expression, it laments the "emotion" which still agitates the capital, and threatens to compromise the prosperity of the people. That emotion it labours to allay with much the same simple argument which a mother might use with a hungry child. "Provisions are assured, and the bakers are provided with flour for thirty-five days." After an odd parenthesis about the adhesion of the Generals, the "Citizens of Paris" are then told, "One thing alone still retards the sentiment of public security, and that is, the agitation of the people, which is want of work, and the ill-founded distrust which causes the shops to be kept closed and puts a stop to business. To-morrow the uneasy agitation of a suffering part of the population will disappear under the impression of the works which are about to be resumed, and of the enrolments of men receiving pay which the Provisional Government has decreed to-day."

The distrust lamented in this sentence, it must be confessed, was not without reason. The "Citizens of Paris," though they manifested throughout these three glorious days the most heroic abstinence from plunder, and though they shot a poor fellow who had pocketed one of Louis Philippe's silver spoons as a souvenir of the citizen King, were rather freer customers at the provision shops than suited the views of the proprietors, and the shops were accordingly closed. The shopkeepers did not trust their fellow-citizens. The Provisional Government finds itself compelled to undertake that variety of duties so vehemently urged upon the British government by some Irish advisers during the late famine. It opens the shops, guarantees their supply, and gives their customers both employment and money. In the case of Ireland three-deckers and war steamers, blue jackets and admirals, were the purveyors to be employed. In Paris a commissariat of a still more equivocal character is introduced. "The students of the Polytechnic School and the citizens De Bassano and Solms are charged to watch over the full and entire execution of the decrees issued by the Provisional Government of the Republic for provisions of all kinds. They shall more particularly see that the bakers be well supplied with bread. Every power is given them for this purpose, and to this effect they will go to the halles and entrepôts, and assure themselves of the complete state of the supplies; they are authorized to call for the assistance of the armed force to secure the deliveries." What with the students of the Polytechnic School, and the "armed force" at their command, we confess to some little apprehension for the bakers, corn merchants, and farmers within reach of the capital.

As for the other parties in the arrangement, the customers themselves, they are all looked to. In the first place, twenty-four battalions of moveable National Guard are to be enrolled from the most destitute classes, who are forthwith to receive 30 sous, or 1s. 3d. a day. Their physical wants will be satisfied with bread, their heroic appetites with a sight of the Alps or the Rhine. Of course, under the disguise of an army, this is a gigantic system of out-door relief. It is pauperism in uniform, with barracks for union workhouses, and with the glory of prospective conquests instead of the stigma we attach to the profession of poverty. Omne tulit punctum qui miscuit utile dulci. Certainly it is a better arrangement than ours, as long as it lasts. We leave it, however, to the economists of France to say how the gratuitous feeding of 24,000 paupers is likely to make bread cheaper for the rest. But this is not all. A virtual gift of ten francs is announced to every person who is poor enough to have about him a pawnbroker's pledge to that amount. "All objects pledged at the Mont-de-Piété, from February 4th, consisting of linen, clothes, and other small articles, on which not more than ten francs have been lent, shall be given back to the parties to whom they belong. The Minister of Finance is charged with the task of providing for the expense which the present decree will occasion." This is no more than reason. The mob have captured Paris, with France into the bargain, and they deserve some prize money, as well as a share in the political benefits of the conquest. Besides all these arrangements of a more or less eleemosynary character, public works are promised. How often have public works stopped the mouths of Cerberus! The three glorious days of July were followed by public works at no distant interval. The fortifications of Paris had this among other objects. Here again, however, we fear we shall be at issue with the Republican economists. Public works undertaken, not so much for themselves as for the wages distributed, are merely a specious and ruinous pauperism—aggravating the evil they palliate or postpone.

The signs of an industrial insurrection are everywhere betrayed. It is a grand turn out against the state as the master employer. Parisian republicanism is Irish repeal, and is nothing more or less than a violent and vaguely-mixed indignation against a Government which does not succeed in finding profitable employment for the people. Bands of armed workmen are everywhere parading the city. Many of the shops, we are told, have been not only ransacked but wantonly injured, as if by discarded or offended employés. These formidable bodies penetrate the Hôtel de Ville, knock at all the doors, fill the salles, and endeavour to repeat in the Council-room the terrible scene which decided the fate of France in the Chamber of Deputies. The genius of Lamartine is tasked to lull the storm. On Friday, this surprising man, exhausted by a sixty hour's sitting, was five times summoned to address fresh masses of armed and hungry citizens, and each time effectually wielded the fierce democracy. The same scene was exhibited at the Ministry of the Interior, when M. Ledru Rollin bribed off his formidable visitors with the promise of 30 sous a day in the National Guard. "The safety of the country," he very truly said, required their immediate enrolment. The Réforme vehemently resents some "sinister reports," that these citizen mobs have been threatening machinery and other apparatus for economising labour. These reports it ascribes to those who, not having been able to gag or conquer the people, calumniate them. By way, however, of refuting the calumny it expostulates with the mob, and quotes from the Atelier, the artisans' journal, a positive statement of the fact, that machinery has been threatened. Its arguments most significantly prove the industrial character of the crisis. "If citizens, victims of the organized concurrence against them by means of great forces, were to allow themselves to be seduced into making a holocaust of machinery, they would deceive themselves as to their real enemy. This enemy is not the economical and great motive power of production; this enemy is the feudal industrial government, which, in order to found its empire on the servitude of hunger, degraded handicraft, and refused to the workmen credit and association." The Atelier argues in the same strain, transferring the blame from machinery and other inventions for abridging labour and multiplying produce, to "egotistical and improvident governments." More cogent arguments, however, are found necessary. Printing machines having been particularly marked for destruction, a notice has been issued that the press of France is under the protection of the Provisional Government, and the active aid of all good citizens is invoked in its defence.

Even did space permit, it would be scarcely necessary to speculate on this feature of the revolution. The fact speaks volumes. It is an operative revolution. We wish we could persuade ourselves that the leaders now installed at the hôtel de Ville had not lent themselves to some most perilous illusions on the subject of wealth and labour. The expedients with which they meet the existing evil, which really is the want of capital for profitable employment, are most wretched, fictitious, and temporary. A thousand military students sent about foraging for food! Shops compulsorily open! Twenty-four battalions of splendid paupers! A general redemption of pawns! The ovens of the Hospices constantly at work for the distribution of bread to armed citizens! Unless manna rains from Heaven, or the unfortunate provinces are plundered, this system of gratuitous pay and artificial employment cannot last long. It is as sure to run out and come to a stand still as the system of Louis Philippe, or any other violation of political truth. The operatives of Paris will find the Hotel de Ville as unable to furnish perpetual employment as the Tuileries or abrogated Chambers. The history of the first revolution witnesses to this truth. However, these events are not the less full of warning to rulers. Employment and food are among the first duties of government. The popular instinct expects to obey, to work, and to be fed. If it is disappointed in this moderate expectation, it is apt to rebel, not expressly for food, but against institutions which it has no practical reason to value. Let Parliaments look to it, hunger is the staple of rebellion.

Justice requires us to guard our censures. We are far from intending a general condemnation of the conduct either of the Provisional Government or of the people. The former has displayed an energetic zeal for humanity and order, carried out with great judgment. We may instance particularly the abolition of capital punishment for political offences, and the strong measures taken for the protection of the once Royal property and other public monuments. The latter has shown equal moderation in the hour of triumph. The peculiar features of the revolution which we have noticed above form no exception to the general character of these events, and are so much the more remarkable.

(From the Paris papers of Sunday, February 27.)

ALL the churches were open on Sunday in Paris, and masses were said for the dead. In the cathedral of Notre Dame the Abbe Lacordaire commenced his series of sermons, the first of which was long since fixed for that day. An immense crowd was present. The rev. gentleman first read the Archbishop's letter. On the demand of the government, the Archbishop gave orders to have the "Domine, salvam fac populum" henceforward sung in all churches. The Abbe, addressing the Archbishop, said, "Monseigneur, the country, by my voice, thanks you for the courageous and catholic example which you have given; it thanks you for having known how to conciliate the immutability of the Church and the sanctity of oaths with the changes which God effects in the world by the hands of men." The preacher, as if to give proofs of this immutability, wished to continue the development of the doctrine which he had set forth so eloquently for several years. He appeared to desire to entrench himself behind divine tradition, and to preserve it from the invasion of history; but the fire burst out, and the Dominican of the people, arriving at the proofs of the existence of God, cried out:—"Prove to you God! Were I to attempt to do so, you would have a right to call me parricide and sacrilegious! If I dared to undertake to demonstrate to you God, the gates of this cathedral would open of themselves, and show you this people, superb in its anger, carrying God to his altar in the midst of respect and adoration!" The whole auditory were so much moved that they testified loud applause, which the sanctity of the place could not restrain.

The Débats, alluding to this scene, says:—"It is well; let the Church take its place like us all. Let it show itself; the people will recognise it. Let it not have any dread of the revolution, in order that the revolution may not be afraid of it. God has delivered the world to discussion—Tradidit mundum disputationi. Let the Church use its arms, the word and charity, instruction and action. Let it aid itself, God will aid it."

IRELAND.

(From the Times Correspondent.)

Dublin, March 9.

THE REVOLUTION.—METROPOLITAN DEMONSTRATION.

THE Repeal Association have just issued another manifesto "to the People of Ireland," signed by Mr. Maurice O'Connell and Mr. Secretary Ray. This document contains the average quantity of slang advice to abstain from acts of outrage, to beware of government spies, and not to be hurried into excesses "by the wild speeches or writings of any party whatsoever." Here is the state paper itself:—

"Fellow-countrymen,—The value of what is occurring in Europe at this moment is to us immense, as it is to the people of every other afflicted and oppressed country in the world.

"Nothing can prevent us from sharing in the benefits of the present great movement for popular rights and rational liberty but any excess of violence on our parts.

"Be not hurried into criminality or disobedience to the laws by the wild speeches or writings of any party whatsoever.

"Beloved fellow-countrymen, if it were possible that you could be befooled and led astray by reckless, and, perhaps, by paid disturbers, what would be the consequences!

"You would show that you doubted your own glorious principles of constitutional agitation for your rights, and you would bring swift and certain destruction upon the heads of multitudes among you.

"Secondly,—You would throw away the present glorious opportunity of making your just, and rightful, and lawful demands for your own Parliament—be attended to and promptly conceded without the loss of one precious life to Ireland—without one hearth being made desolate among her people, and with certain and enduring benefit, prosperity, and happiness to the empire.

"Do not—Oh! we know you will not, listen to any one who would lead you to ruin, and blast all the fair chances that are before us.

"Let the association, which was founded by him whom you so loved and emulated in, and who so dearly loved you—let that body, acting as it does upon his principles, still be listened to by you, and, together, we shall be enabled successfully to call upon England, for her own sake, and her own immediate interest as well as ours, to do justice—full, ample, and entire justice—to our unhappy land, by the immediate restoration of our Parliament.

"Signed by order,

"MAURICE O'CONNELL, M.P., Chairman.

"T. M. RAY, Secretary.

"Corn Exchange-rooms, 8th March, 1848."

It was currently reported last night and this day that the Government had resolved upon issuing a proclamation forbidding the demonstration from being held, and that measures were being taken to strengthen the garrison in the event of the proclamation being disregarded by the people. It is needless to say that as yet there is no foundation for the first part of the statement; but as to the latter there is no doubt whatever that the Executive are fully prepared for any contingency that may arise out of this mischievous movement, and that due precautions have been already taken to guard against an attempted breach of the peace. It is said—but I do not vouch for the truth of the report—that a contract has been entered into with the City of Dublin Steam-packet Company for the conveyance hither from Woolwich of a large reinforcement of artillery, which, it is arranged, is to arrive here by the 14th instant. The 6th (Enniskillen) Dragoons, from Newbridge, are under immediate orders for the metropolis, and are expected here to-morrow or the day following. On Friday the 55th regiment, now stationed at Templemore, will reach Dublin by the Great Southern and Western Railway. From that day the garrison will consist of the following regiments, viz.:—The 6th Dragoons, the 7th Hussars, the 17th Lancers, and a troop of the 4th Light Dragoons; a troop of Horse Artillery, and several companies of foot ditto, with field batteries; the 49th, 66th, 74th, 76th, 85 Regiments of Foot, and the depôt of the 7th Fusiliers.

It is to be presumed that the ceremony of guard-mounting on St. Patrick's Day, according to the old practice at least—will be dispensed with on the coming anniversary. Hitherto it was the usage for the guard to troop with two bands, headed by the Lieutenant-General commanding, and the whole of the military staff. In this state they proceeded to the Upper Castle-yard, the Viceroy being stationed at the window over the grand portico ready to acknowledge either the groans or cheers of the excited rabble in proportion to the amount of his popularity. At the best, of times the affair was little better than broad farce. At present it might be something worse.

THE KING OF PRUSSIA AND COLOGNE CATHEDRAL.—The committee for the repairs of the cathedral, who sent an invitation to His Majesty the King of Prussia to be present at the approaching Cologne festival, have received the following answer from His Majesty:—"It has always been my wish and hope to be personally present on the 600th anniversary of the laying of the foundation-stone of the Cathedral at Cologne, in the month of August next, to which you have sent me an invitation. I shall be heartily glad if circumstances enable me to carry out those wishes.—Berlin, FREDERICK WILLIAM."

Mr. Robert Coates, better known as "Romeo Coates," has lost his life, through an unfortunate occurrence in leaving Drury Lane Theatre. While he was looking for his carriage, a cab, driven at a great rate, knocked him down, the wheels passing over him. Several ribs on both sides were broken, and he died a few days after. The driver of the cab escaped undiscovered. A coroner's jury has returned a verdict of "manslaughter" against some persons unknown.

DEATHS IN GLASGOW IN 1847.—The mortality tables for Glasgow for the year ending December 31, 1847, have just been prepared. The number of deaths is 18,886; being a total quite unprecedented in the annals of the city, and exhibiting an increase over 1846 of 7250 deaths. The proportion of deaths far exceeds the cholera year. The great mortality has arisen from the frightful immigration of diseased Irish, from whom fever has spread throughout the community. Upwards of 7000 bodies have been buried at the public expense during the year.

TO THE INDEPENDENT ELECTORS OF THE NORTHUMBERLAND BOROUGHS.

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honour to offer myself a candidate for your suffrages, at the ensuing election of a member to serve in the Legislative Council.

In thus presenting myself to your notice, I feel it unnecessary to make a lengthy address, as from my long residence among you, both my Principles and Politics must be known to all; but I will take an early opportunity of canvassing your votes, when, and on the day of nomination, I shall be happy to answer all queries.

Gentlemen,—I have only to add, that should your judgment place me at the desired post, the head of the poll, my unremitted exertions will be devoted to promote your best interests in connexion with that of my adopted country.

I am, Gentlemen,
With great respect,
Your obedient servant,
EDWARD BIDDULPH.

Newcastle, June 30. 28

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE COUNTY OF CAMDEN.

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to apprise you of my intention of becoming a Candidate for the County of Camden at the approaching General Election. My opinions upon most subjects of importance have been so frequently expressed, that it appears needless now to repeat them; but I shall, as soon as possible, visit the different Districts of the County, for the purpose of personal communication with the constituency.

I have the honour to be,
Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servant,
JAMES MACARTHUR.

Camden Park, June 28. 10847

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE UNITED COUNTIES OF ST. VINCENT AND AUCKLAND.

GENTLEMEN,—When you did me the honour to elect me as your representative, I was earnestly desirous of carrying out three objects—the reduction of the minimum price of Crown Lands to a reasonable sum—the removing from us the impending danger of District Councils—and the applying a searching and systematic economy to the public expenditure.

On the first of these subjects, the reduction of the price of land, a majority, consisting of officials who are obliged to vote according to the direction of the Government, and large squatters, who consider the maintenance of this price essential to their private interests, have, in the last session, declined to express any opinion, and I have thus the mortification of saying, that while the Legislative Council is hesitating, the question is practically settled by the division of the most valuable and saleable lands of the colony among about one thousand colonists, who can neither sell, cultivate, or improve them.

As to the question of District Councils, we are threatened with a constitution which not merely adopts them, but makes them the point upon which the whole system of government is to revolve. And yet upon this subject also the Legislative Council has felt itself unequal to express any opinion. The country has spoken, but its representatives have been silent.

As to the public expenditure—I have been one of a small minority usually outnumbered by the officials and Crown nominees in our efforts to stem the torrent of corruption. Our ill-success may be attributed to three causes—the unaccountable conduct of many representative members who have absented themselves from the Council altogether—to the almost uniform support given on principle by the members from Port Phillip to any measure of the Government—and by the lamentable want of independence of some of the members for the middle district. From these causes after all our boasted economy we leave the expenditure of the country as large as we found it, and have given the sanction of a partly elected assembly to abuses which we ought not to have tolerated for an instant.

It is under these discouraging circumstances, Gentlemen, I again offer my services to you as your representative. As far as depends on me, those services shall be rendered with the same zeal and independence; but the constituencies of the country must determine whether they shall be attended with better success.

I regret that the shortness of the period fixed for the return of the writs, and my indispensable professional duties, will render it impossible for me to attend personally at the election, and to give to you that account of the trust you have reposed in me, which you are entitled to ask, and which I am willing, and I believe able, to render.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
ROBERT LOWE.

27

TO THE INDEPENDENT ELECTORS OF THE COUNTY OF DURHAM.

GENTLEMEN,—Rumours have, I understand, been circulated in the county of Durham, to the effect that I had consented to stand for another constituency at the ensuing general election. I beg to assure you that this is not the case, as it is, and always has been, my intention to solicit your suffrages again.

As writs are now issued for a new Council, I shall soon have the satisfaction, in coming before you, to learn from yourselves, if my short public career has been such as to justify the confidence which you have reposed in me;—in which case I hope to receive the assurance that you will return me as your representative once more.

In performing my duty to you during the past short, but eventful, session of Council, I trust I have been zealous.

I know I have been conscientious and independent in every vote I have given—and I would fearlessly refer you to my votes on the estimates in support of this assertion.

I hope you will muster strong at the chief polling place on the day of nomination, when I shall have the pleasure of meeting you.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
STUART A. DONALDSON.

THE MOUNT PRUDHOE ESTATE,
IN THE COUNTY OF CAMDEN.
MR. EDWARD SALAMON will sell by auction, at his Rooms, George-street, on Tuesday, 4th July,
At 12 o'clock,
The right, title, and interest of the official assignee in and unto the unexpired term of the lease of the celebrated
MOUNT PRUDHOE ESTATE,
consisting of five thousand nine hundred and three acres of rich and fertile land, situate within six miles of
THE VILLAGE OF CAMDEN, and has a frontage of four miles on both sides of the public road.
About 150 acres have been cleared for cultivation, and sixty acres are now under wheat and oats, which promise a most abundant crop.
The whole of the property (excepting a small portion of the north-east boundary) is fenced and divided into many paddocks, and there has been erected a substantial dwelling for an overseer, dairy, huts, yards, and every necessary for carrying on extensive cultivation and dairy operations.
On this property are the well-known Razorback accommodation paddocks and yards, yielding a steady and increasing return.
The lease is held from the Crown, of which fifteen years are unexpired.
To Carcase Butchers, this property would be invaluable, for the receipt of cattle and sheep. The rent would be more than paid out of the profits of the establishment, and leave the greater portion of the estate for grazing their stock, of which it would carry a large number, without at all interfering with the Cultivation, Dairy, or accommodation of teams, &c.
It is, moreover, unquestionably the best situation on the Southern Road for the erection of a good Inn.
Further particulars may be ascertained on application to the Auctioneer, where a plan of the property may be seen, and also to Mr. Buckland, who will afford any information required respecting the property.
Terms at sale. 87

Drawing, dining, and breakfast rooms
Three bed rooms, two dressing rooms
Pantry, cellar, flagged kitchen, stable, coach-house, flagged verandah, &c.
There is a well of excellent water and pump, and the whole is well enclosed and entered by substantial iron gates.
The situation is highly desirable, being within two miles of the city boundary, of unquestionable salubrity, and embracing delightful views. The road has recently undergone repair considerably beyond this property; and now that the New Barracks are about to be occupied, the proposed junction with the lower road will doubtless be speedily carried out, whereby this locality will be greatly improved.
Further particulars may be ascertained on application to the auctioneer.
